

CRUISER EMDEN DESTROYED, IS BOMBAY REPORT

London, Oct. 24 (10:02 a. m.)---England is hoping today that the career of the famous German commerce destroyer Emden is ended. This hope is based on a couple more or less cryptic cables from Bombay, one issued by the Bombay government declaring that all sea routes may be considered reasonably safe from 9 o'clock in the evening of October 21 and the other, an unconfirmed report from Bombay, to the Morning Post dated the 22nd, that the Emden had finally been accounted for.

600,000 MEN RUSHED TO GERMAN RIGHT TO BREAK ALLIES LINE

London, Oct. 24 (3:48 a. m.)---A Daily Mail correspondent, telegraphing Thursday from "in the north of France" says: "The battle fought near Nieuport Thursday was of extraordinary violence the Belgian troops assisted by British warships literally massacred the Germans who attempted to push out a column toward Dunkirk, hugging the seashore under the cover of the undulating sand dunes. "The Belgian wounded report that at high tide the waves were washing piles of dead upon the beach. "According to thoroughly trustworthy information, the Germans have brought up strong reinforcements from their center and the Rheims region to reinforce their right wing."

Critical Conflict of Campaign

London, Oct. 24. Superlatives have been so frequently used in attempts to describe the engagements of the present war that the emphasis of such terms as "most desperate," "violent" and "merciless" has been weakened by daily use; but today, as if by magical agreement, both German and British newspapers characterize the conflict along the front from Lille in France to the Belgian seaboard as the greatest struggle of all. The newspapers were quick to seize the suggestion of a German military expert as called here from Berlin, that this is the critical conflict, of the whole campaign and whether this be so or not, it is contended that the outcome is likely to decide the future of German operations in France. Reinforcements of 600,000 men are said to have been rushed to the German right wing, and it seems no exaggeration to say that these operations spell the supreme effort of the invaders to break through the allies' line.

Zeppelins Marked Feature

Being denied the use of warships which have been rendering good service for the allies, Germany is said to be throwing her efforts, and particularly Zeppelins, more and more into the fray and news dispatches relate that the operations of Zeppelins have been a marked feature of the fighting to the southwest of Ostend, and which support the troops of France, England and Belgium are said to be working their way. "This, in brief, is a broadview of the situation in France and Belgium, from the English standpoint. Which side had the advantage when dawn broke or when noon came, or which will have it when the sun sets will not be known except to the general staffs of the opposing armies. All the public will know herring something of the nature of a catastrophe to one army or the other, and be that the terrible artillery duel on the Belgian coast has continued and that one side was pushed back here only to advance there, as explained in the official communication issued in Paris last night.

Russians Holding Upper Hand

That the Russians, generally speaking, continue to hold the upper hand in the eastern arena of the war is the gist of most of the dispatches reaching London, and accepting this, as true, England looks to the putting of Germany on a defensive in this territory to prevent her from transferring any forces to the western arena, plan so often discussed during the early stages of the war. The French forts at Verdun, which have been more or less lost at the end of the days the line of battle has been making its way slowly across northern France and Belgium came in the fore again today as a result of news from German sources to the effect that German forces are drawing closer to these positions and that the French positions are failing. London newspapers are treating as significant the withdrawal of German troops from Antwerp and Brussels but these movements would appear to be only part of Germany's plan of reinforcing her fighting line. The danger for Germans and Austrians in the Balkan isles is still spread out but there has been a temporary lull in these efforts due to the lack of adequate detention camps.

Antwerp Commander Halts Loot In City

The Hague, (via London Oct. 24, 10:10 a. m.)---Major General von Einem, commander of the German troops in Antwerp, has issued a proclamation countermanding by the German troops that they are not permitted to commit any looting whatsoever and that this privilege is only allowed to soldiers in accordance with the necessities of military occupation. According to the general proclamation, the soldiers are prevented from breaking into shops or molesting their rights.

MRS. CARMAN'S FATE SOON WITH JURY

WHICH ROAD WILL YOU TRAVEL?

Deaf Witness Tells Of Hearing Shots And Seeing Man In Flight

Lincoln, Oct. 24.—The defense of Mrs. Florence Conklin Carman, on trial for the murder of Mrs. Louise Bailey rested shortly before noon today. Counsel prepared to sum up and indications were that the case would reach the jury late this afternoon. District Attorney Smith, however, desires to introduce several witnesses in rebuttal and the summing up will be postponed until the afternoon session. It was expected that Justice Kelby's charge would be brief and the general impression was that the jury would reach an early decision. Mrs. Carman's face was wreathed in smiles when she entered the court room. She bowed to some friends, kissed her daughter, Elizabeth, gave her husband a nod and smile, and taking a seat at the counsel table chatted with him and her lawyers until the proceedings began. Randolph Laue, first witness called today testified that he was on his way to Dr. Carman's office and within 15 feet of the window when the shot which killed Mrs. Bailey was fired. Laue heard and her lawyers until the proceedings began. (Continued on Page 18.)

Filibuster Blows Up; Congress Agrees To Quit At 4 Today

Washington, Oct. 24.—The 63rd congress ended today when both houses adopted resolutions to adjourn at four p. m. to the December session. The filibuster of southern members for legislation to relieve the cotton situation collapsed at the last moment after holding up adjournment for three days. Immediately after it reassembled at 2 o'clock the house passed the resolution to adjourn at four p. m. by a vote of 66 to 27. The senate then also passed the resolution for the four o'clock adjournment and both houses marked time for the clock to record that hour. Thus ended a three day fight during which eleventh hour disappointments were the principal feature. Senator Kern, introduced this morning, the resolution to adjourn at 4 p. m. and there was a sudden break in the ranks of the southern senators, who, having been holding out for cotton legislation, Senator Smith of South Carolina, said he did not see that anything could be done at present. Senator Sheppard said he was convinced there was no hope. He had announced he would never vote for adjournment without cotton legislation. Senator Hoke Smith, leading the filibusters, taken by surprise, asked for the recess and Senator Kern withdrew his adjournment resolution temporarily and the house recessed until two o'clock p. m. and the senate recessed until 2:30 while conferences were held among leaders. Recess for three days at a time until Nov. 10 with sessions of congress for a few minutes each time without doing business and calling a quorum back to the capital after election was the program on which sentiment crystallized among administration leaders earlier in the day, but this was discarded. ## DESTRUCTION OF TAKACHIHO IS THRILLINGLY TOLD

Tokio, Oct. 24. (4:15 p. m.) It is officially announced that the navy department now believes that the Japanese cruiser Takachiho, which was sunk in Kinko-Chau harbor on October 17 was torpedoed by the German torpedo destroyer S-90. Previous official announcement had it that the cruiser had been sunk by a mine, but the German reports credited the S-90 with the feat. Unofficial account say that the S-90 masked by heavy smoke dashed out of the bay and launched her deadly torpedo. Then she ran the blockade and was pursued by the enemy's destroyers. Foreseeing what her fate would be her commander drove her on the shore and fired the magazines. The captain and the crew of sixty escaped in the direction of Shanghai and were taken in charge and interned by Chinese soldiers. Vice Admiral Kato, commander of the second Japanese squadron before Tsing-Tau, reports that the condition of the wreckage of the Takachiho, the fact that the explosion was visible for a distance of 20 miles, and the stories of the survivors convinced him that the Japanese cruiser was torpedoed by the German destroyer. Immediately after the torpedo attack the magazines of the Takachiho blew up. According to survivors, many members of the crew of the Japanese vessel were blown overboard. These men united in singing the chorus of the national Japanese anthem and thus perished. "This is evidence how bravely these men died and how they valued their love of the country in the supreme moment." Vice Admiral Kato reports. "The commander of the Takachiho died at his post on the bridge."

BANKS SHOW SURPLUS CASH RESERVE

New York, Oct. 24.—The statement of the average condition of the clearing house banks and trust company's for the week show that the cash reserve increased $9,304,800, making a surplus of $8,460,000 above legal requirements. This is the first time in weeks that the Statement has shown a surplus cash reserve.

ROYAL SON BORN Madrid, Oct. 24. (via Paris 11:40 a. m.)—A son was born this morning to Queen Victoria of Spain. The Queen of Spain is a granddaughter of the late Queen Victoria of England. The son born today is her sixth child, the others being three sons and two daughters.

I certainly do sympathize with my dear old friend John Bull. He admits he's in an awful box or will be as soon as the allies win this war. Germany is not to be allowed to keep her colonies, and John does not want 'em at all but who in the dickens else is there to take 'em? he says. I know just what kind of a "pickled" that is far I've been there myself. I do not want all the credit for this weather dope I give the public but who the dickens else is there to take it. Here's for tomorrow: Ohio—North portion, rain and cooler tonight. Sunday probably cooler. Cooler in south portion. Unsettled tonight and Sunday. Probably rain, cooler Sunday. Kentucky—Unsettled and cooler tonight and Sunday; probably local rains.

JUST A THOUGHT.

Last Sunday was by no means a balmy or bright day, to the contrary, the winds were raw and the skies overcast completely by clouds and mists, but it was such a change from a week of excessive rains, that hundreds of people took occasion to sunter miles out on Chillicothe pike afoot. They went to get a little easement from the rigidity of the city, to breathe a fresher air, to glimpse the autumnal beauties of the swelling Scioto and mark the green and brown of the valley with the crimson and purple of the hills. In every heart there must have been an aspiration of thanks to the Creator that He had wrought such a beautiful panorama and given it to his children here.

And do you think, not why the people, the plain people, who walk, not to say the other hundreds who ride thereon in automobiles, went, but why they could go? It was because there was a broad, dry highway over which they could pass dry shod.

Mind you, therefore, Mr. Voter that the reason that highway was there is because we have a state highway department through which the paving of it was done. Had we never had a state highway department, had road construction been left to the proper local authorities, the impossible condition to which candidate Willis and his party platform says we must return—Chillicothe pike, extending from the city would have been, on Sunday last, a veritable sea of mud and mire, utterly impassable to either person or car.

The lesson. It is good in more respects than one. It shows us how closely our fortunes and our blessings are interwoven with those of our neighbor, how closely and indissolubly are knit the ties of country and town. Both pay taxes to pave Chillicothe pike, both get the pleasure and profit thereof. It shows further that these irksome matters of politics oft times come close to our heart and home. Through a system giving vitality by Governor James Cox's administration, Scioto county has this year laid several miles of such paving as you walked on last Sunday on the roads leading from the city. If that system is maintained far but five years more there will stretch out from the city in five different directions, paved pikes longer than you can travel over and return in a day.

Come to think of it, wouldn't it be a good thing if you could of a morn or afternoon walk over a smooth, hard road to Lucasville, to Wheelersburg, up Mann's Run and over "the divide," to Lucasville, to Rushtown, to Friendship, viewing the most exquisite panoramas that nature spreads on her vast canvases? To be sure it would and that is just what a vote for Jim Cox means, for Jim Cox has promised us that and what he promises he does.

That's why candidate Willis is complaining so long and loud about him, and calling him a big state boss.

And Willis he doesn't like this idea of the state highway department building brick roads and brooding one big boss. So he wants to abolish the highway department and return to the days of the county boss and the raving horde of township road bosses when we didn't have any roads to speak of.

Which are you going to choose, Cox and paved roads or Willis and mud roads?

DO NOT FORGET HIM.

C. M. Emory is the Democratic candidate for state senator. His home is at Stockdale, near where the lines of Senator Pike and Jackson meet, and he is interested in farming and merchandising. He is a representative of the new element that is coming to the front in public affairs. Though not many summer suns have passed over him, he has for years been interested and prominent in his own way in the affairs of this particular section, and possessed a general and wide store of information. His close touch with the soil has given him sturdiness and integrity of character and his diversified interests have broadened his views and brought him into contact with all that is best in the welfare of all the people. He is a man of the people, and if one class is given more than its share of consideration, then some other class must be penalized and suffer in the same proportion.

This district was fortunate the past four years in having in the person of C. M. Emory, who was its most influential member in the senate and school legislation. It was during that time that the people of this district were able to secure the passage of the law which has given them the right to elect their own school directors.

IN FULL KNOWLEDGE.

The community at large, who are so anxious to know the facts of the case, are now in a position to do so. The facts of the case are now in the hands of the public, and the people are now in a position to judge for themselves. The facts of the case are now in the hands of the public, and the people are now in a position to judge for themselves.

In all candor and truth, the Times is not in a position to give one of these. It might be said that the Times is not in a position to give one of these. It might be said that the Times is not in a position to give one of these. It might be said that the Times is not in a position to give one of these.

as the best administered in many years and which played a full and happy part in digging up the records by which the grafters who mismanaged state funds were convicted and many thousands of dollars turned back into the state treasury from which it had been filched by evasion of plain obligation.

Mind you, this isn't speaking of things we hear, but uttering that which we know, because we know J. H. Seccrest and his record of personal acquaintance.

THE WAY ABOUT.

Of times a man shows his quality by the way he goes about the task he has in hand, regardless of its importance.

That is the thought that comes to us when we come to consider the candidacy of Dr. J. S. Rapp for coroner. The position offers no substantial inducement in a financial way, since it is problematical if it will bring the incumbent as much as a hundred dollars a year, yet, having accepted the nomination therefore and in a fine sense of honor feeling the obligation thereby undertaken to his party and supporters, young Doctor Rapp is prosecuting his canvass just as actively as though there were a much greater stake attainment. That shows a most admirable quality in him, for it can be unmistakably concluded that where a man is faithful and diligent in small things, that will be he in the greater. And after all, while the office of coroner is not important from a monetary standpoint, it is not infrequently becomes of grave import to the public welfare and it is well one should be in charge of it who has the quickness and the mind to rise equal to its demands and its emergencies. Such a man is Dr. J. S. Rapp.

WORK WELL DONE.

Grover C. Kinley is asking re-election as surveyor on the record he has made. If one in the public service is to be commended and retained because he has well and diligently attended to his duties, then he is not asking in vain. For Grover Kinley has been a hard and competent worker. The flood fairly inundated his department with extraordinary business, but he neither complained nor threw up his hands in dismay. Of course, the task was far greater than any one, or two men could handle with any sort of expedition, in the time public interest demanded, so it was absolutely imperative that he should have help. It can not be said, however, that he did not carry his full share of the extraordinary and unusual tasks. Day and night he has steadily toiled, almost ever since he entered upon his office. There isn't another county official that has had to "keep his nose to the grindstone," to use an old and appropriate phrase, as continuously and hard as he has, yet he has done his work efficiently, and as expeditiously as possible, ungrudgingly and in good temper.

If the voters would just sit down and consider what he has been up against, how earnestly and faithfully he has addressed himself to his thousand and one tasks they would make his re-election well nigh unanimous.

LIKE ONE OF US.

Scioto county ought to feel a peculiarly keen interest in the candidacy of Timothy S. Hogan for United States Senator. He is one of us—Hillbians—being a native Jackson county boy and having lived therein all his life, until his election as attorney general called for his removal to Columbus.

And he is a friend and neighbor to be proud. Easily does he take rank as the best and most industrious attorney general Ohio ever had. The work of his position has been hard and exacting, far beyond what it ever required before, but he has met all its requirements with a singular brilliancy that has given him great fame as a lawyer. More than that so prompt and so cordial has he been in his relations with all that are county officials, a more general popularity than he. It is a far stretch from the coal mine to the position of one of the ablest lawyers and most successful advocates, but Tim Hogan has traveled it through application and native ability. If he has one virtue, above another, it is that he has always remained the friend of the poor and the champion of the weak and oppressed. He never sold his talents to the rich and the powerful and no man can say he has risen through injustice or to the misfortune of others. There is no tarnish upon his career either as a lawyer or as an official.

BRYAN PRAISES COX.

There has never been a more successful political tour of the state than that of William Jennings Bryan. Everywhere he was greeted by large and enthusiastic crowds which forecast the triumphant re-election of Governor Cox and the endorsement of the policies of President Wilson. Giving the endorsement of the national administration to every candidate on the ticket with Governor Cox he made the following decisive statement concerning the Governor:

"I am proud of Governor Cox and his record. There is not another Governor in the nation who has made a more splendid record than he. He is becoming more and more a leader of the nation's Democracy. He has been courageous and untiring in his devotion to the interests of the people."

Mr. Bryan also advocated the election of Timothy S. Hogan as United States Senator, and urged the choice of the Democratic Congressmen, who can be depended upon to uphold the hands of President Wilson.

THE RIGHT WAY.

The times are the way the Wheelersburg Farmers' Club has organized a favorable vote on the proposition to establish an agricultural experiment station in Scioto county and its spirit to win.

The members are not merely wishing the undertaking to come to pass, but they are determined and energetically working for it. They have organized a committee to have literature printed favoring it and personally soliciting votes for it. If every other farmer

WILL GIVE A TALK

George Schafer of the Washington hotel buffet, expects to address the Bartenders' Union on "Home Rule" at the regular meeting of that organization Sunday afternoon.

The beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Reider, of 1301 Lincoln street, was the scene of a delightful party Thursday evening. The time was spent in games and music. The guests included Messrs. Willard Thompson, Carl Powers, Orley Austin, Robert McNeel, Lamm Radford, Harry Haas, Alex Townsend, Fred Myers, Richard Prince, Ora Pruitt, Fielden Buckley and Earl Cunningham; Misses Etta Heller, Mollie Barnhart, Lottie Townsend, Edna Harding, Johanna Lardner, Ida Barnhart, Millie Day, Hensley Lardner, Eva Townsend, Gladys Jenkins, and Mr. and Mrs. Reider and children, William and Clarence. Refreshments were served at a late hour, consisting of ice cream and cake.

Frank Holman, who has been a patient at the Thompson hospital for seven weeks, was dismissed Saturday and returned to his home at Blount Switch.

were to do half as much, take an interest in the project and talk it up it would be certain to carry.

And carry it ought. Before Scioto county will reach anything like her full development she has got to be shown the way. Nothing will do that so quickly and well as an agricultural experiment station. The station is nothing really but a model and modern farm, showing the application of right and scientific methods to farming. It demonstrates how to renew and vivify old fruit trees, how to set and cultivate new ones, the suitable crops to sow on varying lands and the best manner of attending them. One in Scioto county would be of incalculable benefit. It would more than double the production of the county in a few years. The cost to each tax payer would be negligible, only five cents on each thousand dollars of assessed valuation for the first year and after that the station would become practically self sustaining and in the course of time more than pay its own way. It commends itself to both farmer and townsman, because it will teach the farmer how to get the most out of his land and if the quantity and quality of production are increased the latter will get more for the money he must spend to supply his table.

TRUE TO HIS TRUST.

After one of the longest sessions in its history, congress is about to adjourn and its members will go home to their constituents and either vaunt, or attempt to explain their separate courses.

It is said Senator Allee Pomeroy, owing to a press of committee duties will not be able to return to this before the end of the campaign. So far as he is personally concerned there is no need that he should. He is one senator, who has kept his pledges and met the expectations of his supporters and state to the full. Of him it was said before election that he was high of courage, great in ability and sincere and safe in his views. All these qualities he has demonstrated to his lustrious credit. Centenarians of the methods of the demagog and disdaining the artifices of the coward he has boldly and manfully taken his stand for right and the best interests of the public welfare, unquestioning of effect upon his personal fortunes. Had he been either he would have favored the "pork barrel" rivers and harbors bill, because his own state of Ohio stood to get a huge lump thereout, but realizing its wanton extravagance and waste, he was one of the leaders in the fight that led to its sliding away by more than half. His ability is recognized in the fact that though in the early part of his first term, he was given place on the most important committees and distinguished by being made one of the four leaders of the senate. Perhaps, no other senator is closer than he to President Wilson and no better proof of his dependability could be asked.

On the whole his senatorial career has been brilliant, but better than that, it has been such as to rekindle in the people the belief that there are yet representatives, who see public office as a public trust and whose vision is not warped and befuddled by an overruling anxiety to prosper their own personal and political interests.

THE WAR TAX.

From the attitude taken by a lot of folks they would rather the United States stepped into war and spend several millions of money and sacrificed thousands of the loyal sons of the nation than to have peace and by a small taxation fill up the gap in the custom revenues made by the stoppage of importations from the warring countries. It surely is far better to be taxed than to engage in war, we feel assured. Some say raise the custom rate high as the biggest tariff we ever had in operation in this country, or even higher. We would like to know what help this would be at this time when practically nothing is being imported. A higher tariff just now probably would even reduce the present receipts. The emergency exists. The cause of it came like a bolt of lightning out of a clear sky and the administration has met it with the best possible method without the assistance of hands and fixing a future indebtedness as some of the opposition would have liked to have seen solely for political purposes.

ZEPPELINS ARE A IDING GERMANS

London, Oct. 24 (10 a. m.)—A private Berlin dispatch according to the correspondent of the Central News at Copenhagen states that the battle raging between Nieuport and Dixmude is the most violent and the most important engagement of the entire war. He adds that Zeppelins are said to have given the Germans considerable support.

London, Oct. 21. What a German military expert says with a life and death struggle for Germany is still raging along the coast of the English Channel front and even in location shows that the invaders are finding their C. strength against the allies in a determined effort to capture Dunkirk and Calais.

Some reports come from various sources in Belgium of the evacuation of the preparation for the departure of the German forces.

HOW A BRAVE OFFICER LET PRISONER ESCAPE

ALIMONY SUIT IS FILED

A suit for alimony was filed by Mrs. Emma Bullock, through her attorneys, Blair and Kimble, against her husband, Albie Bullock, an employee of the Portsmouth Steel company.

Mrs. Bullock alleges in her petition that she has been ill three months and that her husband has not contributed a cent to her support. She asks for reasonable alimony.

Will Sink Bridge Peer

Water has been pumped out of Pier No. 1 at the county bridge site and air installed. The compressed air process of sinking the pier down to bed-rock will be started Monday.

Any man who may in the future be arrested by Constable Lou Steling will be firmly refused the request should be asked the privilege of bringing in the cows. The brave officer is never caught twice on the same hook, and hereafter when he arrests a man he does not propose to allow him one inch of leeway.

The other day pretty Miss Velma Dean, residing near Lucasville, swore out a warrant in Squire Byrnes' court, charging Roy Wright of the same neighborhood with being the father of her unborn child. The warrant was placed in Constable Steling's hands and he went forth for his prey, finding the defendant without much trouble. He was located on the farm of John Snedaker, for whom he had been working for some time. He made no effort to run away, submitting quietly to being placed under arrest.

Portsmouth High Tied With Wellston

In one of the most spectacular football games ever played in Millbrook park Portsmouth High held the fast and sturdy Wellston team to a tie score, neither line being crossed, Saturday afternoon. The score was 0 to 0.

Jones, Fout and Horr starred for Portsmouth, and Handley and Gillen were bearcats for Wellston. A fine crowd witnessed the game. Sellers of Wellston acted as referee and Wallace Drew of this city was the umpire.

Financiers Trying To Meet Depression

DESERTION OF ANTWERP BY GERMANS

London, Oct. 24—1:37 a. m.—A dispatch to the Times from Brussels, dated Friday, says:

"A telegram from Brno, Netherlands, states that only a few hundred men of the German Landwehr remain in Antwerp. The staff left the Hotel Staterie and during the night of Wednesday and the early hours of Thursday the last of the garrison troops marched out of the town, the passage of the columns occupying ninety minutes. The troops went southward by the railway."

"The whole environs of the town are deserted and the Germans' railway staff, which has been occupied in rebuilding the bridges, and the railway lines has disappeared. The Bavarians threw machine guns, probably unserviceable, into the Scheldt."

MUST KEEP SALES

Columbus, Oct. 23.—Liquor dealers must keep an account of all sales of wine, champagne and cordials sold today and hereafter until stamps are furnished by the Federal government in accordance with the new war revenue tax act. This order was issued today by R. E. Williamson, internal revenue collector here.

ARRESTED ON PATERNITY CHARGE

Robert Burt, a local brickworker, is in the county jail, having been bound over to grand jury on $500 bond on a paternity charge, preferred by Miss Lucy Seely of 102 Eleventh street. Burt was arrested by police officers early Saturday morning and had a hearing later before Squire A. J. Finney. Friends of the couple are trying to effect a compromise of the case out of court.

Here From Columbus

Charles E. Hard, member of the state Republican committee, came down from Columbus Saturday night to attend the Harding meeting Saturday evening.

Regular meeting Calvary Community, No. 13 Monday evening, October 26, at 7 o'clock.

Washington, Oct. 24.—The federal reserve board had before it today for formal consideration the cotton loan fund plan, designated to meet the situation in the south caused by the European war, and government officials were of the opinion it would be approved. It was pointed out that upon the adoption of the plan largely depended the success of the conference, between board members, Sir George Paish and Basil B. Blackett, representing the British treasury and New York bankers looking to the adjustment of conditions in the foreign exchange market due to the war, and which were continued today.

The belief was expressed today that as a result of the conference the various problems involved would be settled without much difficulty.

It was thought the fact that American bankers are ready to meet their obligations to England in cash would be made plain to Sir George and Mr. Blackett. It is expected the $100,000,000 pool already formed and the $50,000,000 pool raised by a syndicate in New York to pay that city's obligations will be sufficient to satisfy England. It may not be necessary, however, to pay the full amount.

RELIEF FOR TEXAS FLOOD SUFFERERS

San Antonio, Tex., Oct. 24.—Relief work among sufferers from yesterday's flood along San Pedro and Alamo creeks in which eleven persons are known to have been drowned and two thousands were rendered homeless, was well under way today.

Several persons are still missing and the death list may increase. Property loss is estimated at between $150,000 and $200,000. Several hundred houses were swept away.

FRENCH SHIP ASHORE

London, Oct. 24.—The French ship Marie Henriette with 100 soldiers ashore is ashore near Cape Hartlepool, 16 miles east of Chelbourg, according to a telegram received here from Lloyd's signal station at Gravesend. The ship was seen at 10:30 a. m. and is being shelled by the German forces.

Moved To Saintsville
Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Pyles, who have been living on Linden avenue, have moved to Saintsville, Me. Pyles was at one time at the head of the local fire department.

THE MARKETS

Chicago, Oct. 24.—Selling pressure from leading houses acted as more than an offset today for moderate commission buying of wheat. It was suspected that export concerns were mainly responsible for the bearish attack on prices. There was no doubt, however, that a good deal of the selling was due to efforts which a number of holders made to realize profits. After opening 3.8 off to 3.8 up, the market tended to harden, but later sagged below last night's level all around.

Corn showed temporary strength because of wet weather and the likelihood that exports from Argentina had been checked by the Germans. What weakness afterward had a bearish effect. The opening which ranged from 1.4 to 3.8 to 3.8 higher, was followed by a reaction to slightly under the previous close.

Quota were governed by the course of other grain. Trade was only fair in volume.

More hog arrivals than expected pulled down provisions. Buyers seemed to be holding off.

Large receipts of wheat at primary points were disadvantageous to the bulls. The close was unsettled, 3.1 to 1 not lower.

In the late dealing the corn market was a fine continued to edge. The close was steady though, at 3.8 to 1.2 net decline.

A Little Queen," produced in five parts by the Famous Players company. In this delightful, fast-moving picture "Little Mary" makes the greatest impressions of her illustrious career. The basic theme of the play is the experience of a young queen, called because of political dissension in her own kingdom, who finds refuge in America. The "Little Queen" proves that there is no real difference between royalty and the common people when they are wrecked by the buffets of circumstance.

On the strength of her portrayal of "Anna," Mary Pickford is entitled to rank with the leading stars of the American stage. Her winsome, simple and brave, in turn as the character requires. She has dignity and grace, gentleness of manner and patient restraint, and she contrasts most effectively the moods identified with a situation in which disappointment and despair must be concealed under a pretense of cheerfulness and courage. The true spirit of romance permeates this delightful play and the clever star is equally effective in the humorous and serious episodes of the drama. Curly Howard plays the role of the king admirably.

"The Girl and the Stowaway," featuring Tom Moore and Alice Joyce is the feature for Wednesday and it's a splendid picture with a great big punch to it.

"Shadows of the Past" in three parts, will be shown Thursday. This is positively one of the strongest dramatic offerings of the year. It's an all star. Vitaphone production, featuring such excellent talent as Anita Stewart, Harry T. Morey, Julia Swayne Gordon, Rose Tapley, L. Rogers Lutton and Van Dyke Brooke. It is a picture that will impress you, one that you will never forget.

"Toys of Fate," on Friday, and "His Unknown Girl" on Saturday completes a program of picture excellence that can hardly be improved upon.

At The Exhibit

For its program tonight, The Exhibit is offering "The Brand of Bars," a Warner release, and a good feature. The picture tells the story of a man who after serving a prison sentence, went west to attempt to live a new life. A special feature being the Mystery of complications, arise from his imprisonment, one of the released (with readers, who gave a charming love story rim, all the most remarkable example of through the plot and as usual there is a villain. There are enough exciting western scenes, and sufficient comedy to spice the picture.

Good Things

Columbia Next Week

If you enjoy real good comedy, you can't afford to miss the big comedy bill at the Columbia to start is both rollicking and a real laugh. A two reel special picture, "The Great Bank Robbery," in which "Chick" Reams, the gold champion boxer, is up with out a friend "Sweddie," and it is a real riot of fun. Then again you don't want to miss "Slippery Sam" and his two friends. They are funnier than ever tonight.

Commencing next Monday, the Columbia offers a real feature program for every day next week. On Monday "Mr. Ringle" in a shuckles.

Lyric Features For Next Week

Some mighty fine feature pictures will be shown at the Lyric next week, high class pictures that cannot disappoint the most particular patron. On Monday "The Ring and the Book," in two parts, is the offering. This splendid picture is adapted from Robert Browning's dramatic poem and it makes one of the greatest pictures ever turned out by the picture company. Two Vitaphone comedies will be shown along with this, making a top notch program.

RUSSELL IS ILL, WOODRING SPEAKS

Owing to a sudden attack of illness which necessitated his return home, Howard Russell, of Toledo, will be unable to fill his speaking engagement at the big dry tent Saturday evening. His place will be filled by Rev. W. D. Woodring, a prominent minister of Columbus, who was substituted by the state managers of the Anti-Saloon League at the last moment. Rev. Woodring was highly recommended to the local campaign committee as a forceful advocate of the dry cause, and his address will no doubt be highly acceptable to his audience.

Sunday afternoon, Henry Brownell, a prominent business man of Washington, D. C., will speak at the dry tent, with Attorney Thomas H. Clark of Columbus, as the principal speaker at the evening meeting. Large crowds are expected at both meetings.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

A committee to draft resolutions of respect in memory of the late G. D. Wait was appointed at the meeting of the G. A. R. Friday evening. The committee will report at the next meeting of the Post. Owing to the Seaborn Wright meeting at the dry tent, the attendance was much smaller than usual.

40 HOURS DEVOTION

The Devotion of the Forty Hours will begin at Holy Redeemer church with a solemn mass Sunday morning at 9:30. Rev. Father J. E. McGuirk will be assisted by Rev. Father Raphael, of Cincinnati, Rev. Father John Meade, Woburn and Rev. Father Theodosius, of Ripley, O. The exercises will conclude Tuesday evening.

Farmers On Watch For Corn Thieves

A posse of West Side farmers and forced the thieves to return camped out in the bottoms below the city Friday night and around the city. The thieves have become so bold of late as to sell stolen corn. The farmers were heavily armed in the city by the skiff loads.

BEN HURS

Portsmouth court, Tribe of Ben Hur, passed on eleven applications for membership Friday night.

The Ben Hur Military club and ladies' drill team are arranging to give a box social and entertainment next Tuesday night to which members and their friends are invited. A committee is also arranging for the fourteenth anniversary celebration November 13, when a class of fifty or sixty members will be received into the order. The supreme officers will be present on that occasion.

NO OTHER WAY TO REMOVE THEM

Mayor Frick's attention has been called to an old ordinance prohibiting the burning of leaves and other rubbish upon the paved streets of the city.

The mayor says he would gladly enforce the ordinance, but for the fact that otherwise the city would have to bear the expense of removal and has not sufficient funds for the purpose. The mayor does not favor the smoke from burning leaves, but would rather have them removed in that fashion than scattered over the streets promiscuously.

Rev. Irvin Moves

Rev. John Irvin, pastor of the Seventh Street A. M. E. church, has moved his family here and is occupying the A. M. E. parsonage on Seventh street. Rev. Irvin was for five years pastor of the Quinn Chapel of Tronton.

Will Sell Property

Attorney Anselm Skelton has filed a petition with Referee Marks

Crawford to sell the property of Joseph Howerth, a local baker, who recently went into bankruptcy. The petition will be heard Wednesday, November 4.

JUDGE WOULD STOP THE SALE OF LIQUOR

The following is a from The Times-Star, Toledo, Ohio, dated October 23, 1914:

"The S. District court, Judge Hollister, Friday, in passing sentence upon several persons, dead and at some length on the part of the court in crime by the use and abuse of liquor. Judge Hollister said that in his general delivery clerk in the Cincinnati postoffice, convicted of abstracting $6 from a letter, was sentenced to 11 months in the Miami county jail.

"Seventy-five per cent of the crimes that come before my notice are caused by liquor," he said. "Three-fourths of all the misery, poverty and tears of women and children are due to the use and abuse of liquor. If I could do it I would stop the use and manufacture of intoxicating liquor. The poison of alcohol is as bad as the poison of cocaine and as the poison of opium. And always the courts are called upon to be merciful."

Judge Hollister said that in his case the plea was made that he was under the influence of liquor when he took the letter that contained the money. "The blow always falls heavily on the women folk of the convicted man," the judge said, as Hoff wept when he was led away."

Want Heibel Arrested

The police authorities have requested assistance in the arrest of Heibel, who is wanted in Columbus, Ohio, for a charge of escaping from jail while being held for carrying concealed weapons. Heibel is now in jail for the return of Grover, after arrest in Tronton.

Over 50 Years Of Public Prosperity

THE First National Bank of Portsmouth, O., is a Member of the Federal Reserve System, about which you have heard so much. It was one of the first Banks in Ohio to wire the Comptroller of the Currency of its intention of joining the new Federal Reserve System.

THE NATIONAL BANK ACT

It is a matter of just pride that The First National Bank of Portsmouth has always sought to be first in everything which tends to make it safer and of more service to our people. Over fifty years ago it was organized under The National Bank Act, because it was convinced that as a NATIONAL Bank it could give its depositors greater SAFETY. This Act was passed during the stormy days of our Civil War. It removed the evils of wildcat banking. It gave us an absolutely safe form of money. It gave the people of the United States NATIONAL Banks where they were afforded the greatest amount of safety and protection. Under this Act our country has thrived and grown great and prosperous. Under it we have had 50 years of public prosperity. But as the country has grown it was felt that our Banking System should expand. Business was not throttled, but it was being cramped.

THE FEDERAL RESERVE ACT

And so the Federal Reserve Act came into being. It is not a destruction of the advantages of the old National Bank Act. It preserves all that was good in it and has added additional features which will enable The First National Bank of Portsmouth to better serve you in the future. Under the Federal Reserve Act the country will be divided into districts. In each district will be a Regional Bank. That is a Banker's Bank which will carry the reserves of the Member Banks in that district. Each of these Regional or Reserve Banks will be a central bank in its own district—in close touch with local conditions—and will keep the money of each district in that district. These Reserve Banks will rediscount the commercial paper of their Member Banks and enable their Members to have more money to serve their people with. They will also issue Bank Notes. EVERY NATIONAL BANK MUST BELONG TO THE FEDERAL RESERVE BANK IN ITS DISTRICT OR IT CAN NO LONGER BE A NATIONAL BANK AND AFFORD DEPOSITORS THE SAFETY OF A NATIONAL BANK.

WHEN AND WHERE

You know our Building don't you? The big Bank Building at the Corner of Gallia and Chillicothe Streets. But if you live out of town and are looking for ABSOLUTE SAFETY drop us a postal and we will tell you how to Bank here by Mail. Our Hours are from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. On Saturdays from 9 A. M. to 12 Noon.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK

Member

FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

PORTSMOUTH, OHIO.

Capital and Surplus . . . $450,000.00
Resources Over . . . $3,000,000.00

The First National Bank joined the Federal Reserve System, as stated, to afford its customers greater SAFETY and to give them greater SERVICE. Of the matter of Service we shall speak again. Just now we will say a few words as to the additional SAFETY afforded you.

THE MATTER OF SAFETY

Under the new Federal Reserve Act a U. S. Bank Examiner calls here at least twice a year. He can go into EVERYTHING in our Bank. He can make every one here testify under oath. Just what we have here—everything we do here is right out in the open. Besides that each of our stockholders are INDIVIDUALLY responsible for the amount of his stock at the par value IN ADDITION to what he has invested in the stock. Everything that will make your money safe here has been taken into consideration. The Government of the United States stands back of The First National Bank of Portsmouth. SAFETY FIRST is the one, great consideration with you carry YOUR money at The First National Bank of Portsmouth, a Member of the Federal Reserve System of the United States Government.

A SAFE INVESTMENT

Did you ever stop to think of a First NATIONAL Savings Account simply and purely as an INVESTMENT? Thousands of people throughout the country carry NATIONAL Savings Accounts as Investments. You can open such an account with $1.00 or upward. You need no special sum. Every Dollar in a First NATIONAL Savings Account earns you 3 per cent interest and every four months the interest is compounded for you. Do you know of any other form of investment in the world where your money is absolutely safe—where you can get it at any time; where the interest compounds—and back of which stands the Government of the United States? Whether you are a person of large means or a person of small means invest your money in a First NATIONAL Savings Account. Don't put it off. Start it at once—and start it earning interest at once. IN MORE THAN HALF A HUNDRED YEARS OF OUR HISTORY NO ONE HAS EVER REGRETTED AN INVESTMENT IN A FIRST NATIONAL BANK ACCOUNT. Not one! Whether you have $1.00 or $1,000 if with YOU safety is the one, big thing, keep that money in The First NATIONAL Bank of Portsmouth, a Member of the Federal Reserve System of the United States.

SPECIAL

For the convenience of thrifty working people who want their money SAFE we are open Tuesday evenings from 6 to 9. Why not make it a point to come here next Tuesday evening? Never mind how small your start may be. MAKE THAT START. Don't put it off. Join our Army of Savers. May we see you?

LOCAL GERMAN'S VIEW OF THE WAR

By Major Lewis F. Korth, Former Editor of The Correspondent

Friday, October 23, 1914.

Europe has witnessed another week of wholesale slaughter both East and West. The German siege forces of Antwerp which with heavy reinforcements advanced from Ostend through the last strip of coastland left to Belgium toward Dunkirk, one of the leading places of the English army in France, met the allies on the last between Nieuport, where the little river empties into the sea, and Dixmude in the Ypres canal zone, a very favorable strategic position.

On Sunday last the fighting began at Nieuport and has lasted through the week without decision on either side. The English channel fleet and two marine brigades participated, taking the Germans in flank. London claims that 15,000 Germans were killed by British fire but you can cross some caught off. A British destroyer was sunk by a German shell. The British fleet bombarded Ostend and Sluys.

The Belgians have cut the dikes at Nieuport and flooded the country which impedes the movements of the Germans, who are now building corduroy roads for their big guns.

On Wednesday a general engagement took place northeast of Lille, now the base of the German drive, in which the Germans took a number of machine guns and several thousand prisoners. They have advanced here and at Labas.

It is a vital matter to the allies to check the further progress of the Germans, not only for the safety of the channel towns, where the British land their troops, but for their entire left wing and Paris. The bloody fighting extends all through West Flanders from the coast to the French border and beyond Lille. The German crown prince is said to have at last reduced the river Meuse's forts around Verdun.

French Metz, and the outer parts of the town. If this is true, Verdun will soon share the fate of Antwerp. It is by far the strongest fortress on the Eastern border of France and is defended by a whole army. A frontal attack is next to impossible, and the object of the besiegers has been to sink it and get out of the hills onto the plateau of Woëvre, which is commanded by the fortified heights. There they could develop their masses and force a battle in open field.

For nearly two months the bloody struggle has been going on, as foot by foot had to be won from the French. If the Germans have taken the heights around the town their work is half done. The reduction of Verdun would open the nearest road to Paris from Metz and Strasbourg and shorten the line of German communications by half of what they are through Belgium.

Heavy fighting around Verdun and Mehl is reported from both Berlin and Paris. Also in Von Kluck's center.

France is making her last levy of recruits, calling all youths between sixteen to eighteen years of age.

German mail advices confirm reports of the withdrawal of German army corps from the Vistula east at the time of Von Kluck's unexpected march on to Paris.

The retirement of the victorious Austrian army from South Poland to the San river in Galicia.

The Russians had concentrated a main army around Warsaw, a hard stroke against Breslau, finally Berlin, but Dank and Zolberg's victories in South Poland, at Kieles, Krasnik, and Kosz, and Hindenburg's victories in East Prussia forced them to change their tactics. Instead of moving from their center (Warsaw) toward the San river, they moved south into Galicia, throwing a avalanche of forces toward the object of cutting off the right wing of the Austrian army in that section and in best condition, which recently crushed it. It was with great difficulty that the Austrians in South Poland, now also threatened in flank and rear, extricated themselves and by hard fighting at Kosen Raska, Gradow and Nikola-jew blocked the Russian advance long enough to safely reach the San and Vistula, where the whole army was reunited and reorganized for the new offensive now under way.

It was at that time that the chief commander of the Austrian army, Archduke Frederick, appealed to Emperor William for help, who had to weaken the German army in the West in the height of its success to save the campaign in the East.

Good reports are coming from the Austrian army, which is now operating between the San and Dunajec southeast of Przemyśl with success. So far they have taken 15,000 prisoners. The situation at Warsaw, where Hindenburg stands with a large army, Germans and Austrians, is also hopeful. Fighting every day. In East Prussia the Russians on the fourteenth of the month tried to retake Lyck but were defeated with a loss of 8,000 men and several guns. The Austrians have cleared the Bukovina of Russians again and retaken the capital, Czernowitsh.

London reported another naval victory in the North Sea. The English cruiser "Polaris," sunk four German destroyers on the Dutch coast, we were told. Berlin acknowledges the loss of the little ships, but not that they were sunk. The German commanders have to destroy their vessels before surrendering them by naval rule, and they did. After a fierce fight against the big fleet, five times as large as the four little ones together, they ran their ships on the rocks. Not a soul was saved, as far as known. The British made no prisoners.

On Tuesday last the new swift British submarine 33 was sunk by German warships in the North Sea, according to the German admiralty. It is the eighth one since the war began.

Tokio reports German torpedo boat P. 90 escaped from Tsing-Tau after sinking Japanese cruiser "Takachino." London had it that the Japanese were sunk by a mine.

That the big British battleship "Polaris" did not triumph very much in an attack on the "Tsing-Tau" fleet on Monday, but was so badly crippled by the big German howitzers that it had to pull out of the fight, was not reported from London, but from Peking via San Francisco to the German ambassador in Washington. The "Polaris" supported an attack of Japanese infantry on the fortifications, which was repulsed. The little German garrison is holding out bravely against the odds and gives the Japs a different fight than the Russians did at Port Arthur in 1905. As yet it does not think of capitulation. The siege has cost the Japanese so far 8,000 men by their own account. By last reports they were bombarding the city.

The little German cruiser, Emden, has scuttled again six British steamers on the Malabar coast.

The Karlsruhe is in the same work on the Atlantic. She has sunk or captured thirteen English merchantmen so far.

In Germany there are now interned 352,000 prisoners, French, Belgians, Russian and English, in Austria 50,000 Russians and Serbians.

In her fine railroad system Prussia enjoys a great advantage over Russia. A big net of strategic roads stretches in all directions from north to south, east to west, all through the eastern border provinces, and she is able to transport troops to almost everywhere by rail in short time, while Russia has but few more than the big trunk lines to Petersburg and the interior. The pikes and country roads in Prussia are also kept Germany's island possessions in the Pacific, probably.

While Russia persecutes the Jews, Emperor William has just promoted 185 of them from the ranks to officers on merit and for bravery. The allies counted with certainty upon the rising of the Poles in Galicia. They were disappointed. There may have been defections in the border districts, but the Russians were not received with open arms by the people. A legion of Polish Sokols (freedom fighters) under the Austrian colors, and the Poles, both in the Austrian and Prussian contingents, have proved to be some of the bravest. Prussia especially counts her Polish soldiers among the best. If there is to be an independent Poland again the realization of this fondest dream of the Polish people will not come from Russia, who has broken all from Germany and Austria, to whom a buffer state against Russia is of vital interest. The partition of Poland at the instance of Russia in the 18th century was not only a mistake, it was a political crime, acknowledged as such by the best minds in Germany. Frederick the Great of Prussia and the Empress Maria Theresa of Austria only reluctantly agreed to it. At that time the Poles were backward in civilization, the people were owned by the noblemen. Time has changed that. The London Times applying to the sneer of the Frankfurter Zeitung that the British have failed to make good their promise to the poor Belgians, says: "We are sorry for them that we are even slower than Russia, but in a year or so hence when our friends need a rest we shall be in a position to make good. Then we will begin a maritime war against Germany, etc."

Yes, in a year hence when Belgium and France will have been Rich Arabians have offered to fit out an Arab-Expedition for Germany, but the German government does not want to bring the Arabs into Europe. They are subjects of the Khedive of Egypt who himself is under the suzerainty of Turkey, where he is keeping himself at present because the English don't let him come back to Cairo for fear of a revolution in Egypt.

Signs of a Mohammedan rising in India also are apparent. Eight battalions of English regulars, replaced by territorials (militia) have been sent there from Malin, Alexandria, and Gibraltar, since the Indian Sikhs have been withdrawn for service in Egypt, not in France, as has been given out. Only 20,000 of them went to the Abyss.

There is undoubtedly great unrest in the Mohammedan world. From the Caucasus a rising against Russia is called. Four Russian divisions have been sent there from Bessarabia. Every day brings more evidence that Turkey has got ready to strike. The Caucasus is likely to be her first field of action.

Moscow is giving the French considerable trouble, too.

By Hamburg commercial reports of October 4, the prices of produce and provisions in Berlin were by one-fourth less than in New York. Flour has advanced in price and so have meats and dairy products, other commodities are normal. There is no want in anything but tropical fruit. Wages, especially for skilled work, have gone up, which to an extent compensates for the rise of prices.

Germany has had a good harvest, sufficient to last until the next year's crop. From Hungary the grain of Middle Europe, even abundance is reported. As yet there is no suffering either in Germany or Austria, with the exception of the invaded districts.

The Prussian Landtag has appropriated 1,500,000,000 Mark (375 million dollars), for relief work, of which one-third will go to East Prussia.

Last week's statement of the German Reichsbank shows a further increase of the gold reserve by 31,019,000 mark.

The Japanese Professor Hase Kameo, who teaches national economy in the University of Tokio, lately arrived in New York, in an interview published by the New York American expresses the conviction that Germany will win the war.

Japan only fulfills alliance obligations to England and is not vitally interested, he says. Not any further than to gobble up to death. But the rest of the world will not wait until England has made good for itself. If the war lasts as long as Lord Kitchener predicts all of them in it will have been ruined. England itself is even now in a worse plight than Germany. The unemployed come in droves to the states. P. E. Archibald, the correspondent of the New York Tribune, writes from London: "The Americans will be astonished, when they hear the truth about conditions in England."

Can England take the responsibility upon itself for a social upheaval all over the world after this terrible world's war? It has not made good so far, it will be less able to do so in a year hence. Conditions are different today than in Napoleon's and Lord Pitt's time. And there is a Lord above his lordship.

As by the sudden and deplored death of King Carol of Roumania, so has Germany lost a good friend in San Galiano, Italy's minister of foreign affairs, who has followed King Carol. It is said, however, that the Italian premier Signor Salandra holds the same views as his dead colleague. He is backed in his course by wise old ex-premier Giolitti, who is really the soul of Italy's policy.

"Popolo Romano", the conservative organ in Rome, says that if Italy contrary to faith and belief should attack Austria, her ally, she would be guilty of a most cowardly and disgraceful act, and old Giolitti in his "Carriere" rebukes the cheap generosity of France in offering Italy Trent and Dalmatia for a break with Germany which it does not own and will never get to give away.

Italy wants Russia on the Adriatic as little as Austria does. Italy's neutrality then is not a question that could be changed by the death of a sick and weary old man to a policy of adventures.

The differences between Italy and Austria as to Albania and the Adriatic have been adjusted by concessions of the latter. An agreement has been reached, it is said.

COSLEY THINKS TRAIN VICTIM WAS HIS SON

The police are in receipt of a letter from Ben Cosley, of Atlanta, Ga., asking for full particulars of the killing of two youths by a C. & O. train at South Portsmouth October 12th. The names of the victims at the time were given as Artie and Ernest Currie and their bodies were shipped to Trenton, Ga. Mr. Cosley believes one of them was his missing son, Earl Cosley, who was last heard from at Nashville, Tenn. Charles Jones, who is now employed on the government dam below the city, was the only eye-witness of the double killing.

PRICE SPOKE AT THE WEST END DRY TENT

E. P. Price, an assistant at the Selby Shoe Company, was the principal speaker at the meeting in the West End dry tent Friday evening. Mr. Price argued long and fast against the Home Rule amendment and for the state-wide prohibition amendment. He compared the Home Rule amendment, as quoted in the Home Rule Blue Book, with the one on file at the office of the secretary of state, to show that the wet leaders were trying to deceive the voters.

He also referred to the opinion on the Home Rule amendment rendered by Attorneys Mahon, Miller and Seale. Prior to the speaking a series of slides, showing the daily life of the typical drinker, were thrown on the screen. E. P. O'Brien, the chairman of the meeting, operated the picture machine and accompanied each picture with a witty story.

Pike Countians Visited Here

Representative George Leist, County Clerk Milton Stahler, County Auditor Deryl Elyer and Florence Rader, an official of the state highway department, all of Pike county, were in Portsmouth for a short time Friday evening. They had spent the day campaigning in the southern part of Pike county, and took advantage of the opportunity to come to a real city before returning to Waverly. They prophesied that Pike county would give a big majority for Governor Cox and the entire Democratic state, district and county ticket.

Mr. Ruel In Waverly

Contractor Henry Ruel went to Waverly Friday morning to look after some work in that vicinity, for which he has the contract.

"Home of Character", No. 206

An Old Fashioned Colonial House—By John Henry Newson

The lattice entrance porch, wide side-light barge and simplicity of treatment all combine to give this design an old-fashioned New England colonial effect. The siding and trim are painted white and the roof is in shingles stained green.

The interior is designed along modern lines with an entry hall and separate stair hall, thereby doing away with the necessity of a rear stairway with a consequent saving in floor space. The living room and dining room are separated by a eased opening with wide reveals, and fireplace, furnace and kitchen flues are all carried in one chimney, thereby further reducing the cost. The second floor contains three large bedrooms with closets and large bathroom. Additional rooms can be placed in the attic, if desired. The large porch at the side connected with living room and dining room by long French doors is a most attractive feature.

The exterior could be developed in a number of other types, when we will be glad to suggest a request.

This design can be built under ordinary conditions for about $1000.

No. 206—Size 32x28 feet. Price of plans $25. Price of specifications $5.

Address all inquiries concerning any "Home of Character" to John Henry Newson, care Homes of Character Department, The Times. Be sure to give the number of the home. Mr. Newson answers all inquiries free of charge to Times readers.

HOLY REDEEMER CHIMES WILL BE PLAYED TONIGHT; OTHER CONCERTS COMING

The installation of the full set of chimes of eleven bells at Holy Redeemer church has been completed and they will be heard for the first time this evening.

The different bells were satisfactorily tested Friday by Ernest A. Menely, of Waterbury, New York, the expert who supervised the placing of the bells in the east tower of the church. Mr. Menely is instructing Edward C. Keen, the organist, in playing the chimes and will himself remain over for Wednesday morning to play the wedding march at the marriage of Miss Agnes Flannigan and Mr. John Brown Wednesday morning.

PICTURE OF BARBERS

An unusually fine group picture of the 750 delegates to the thirteenth international meeting of the Journeymen Barbers at Indianapolis is on display at Henry Baker's Crystal barber shop. H. O. Williams, secretary of Portsmouth local, attended the meeting just returning a few days ago. Buffalo, N. Y., won the next meeting which will be held five years hence.

Granted Parole

Mrs. Dan Fisher, of Galvin street, received word from the authorities of the Mansfield Reformatory Friday evening, that her son, John Douglas, committed to that institution from this county in September, 1913, had been granted a parole, effective December 15, 1914. The young man will return home on that date.

Turns Down Fine Offer

Charles V. Wertz turned down an offer of $10,000 for his fine home on Fourth street Friday. The offer was made by one of the city's leading undertakers.

IF HAIR IS TURNING GRAY, USE SAGE TEA

Don't look old! Try Grandmother's recipe to darken and beautify faded, lifeless hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from an old-fashioned 50 cent bottle of "Weyl's Sage and Sulphur Compound," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Especially use "Weyl's Sage and Sulphur" because it dures to naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.

HARDING SPEAKS AT THE CLUB TONIGHT

Hon. Warren G. Harding, of Marion, Republican candidate for United States Senator, will speak at "The Club" auditorium Saturday evening, at what will probably be the last political meeting of note in the present campaign in this county.

Preceding the meeting, the thirty-third degree Republicans of the city and nearby vicinity, will form a procession which will act as an escort for the speaker from the Washington hotel to the meeting place. Red fire will be burned in abundance, and two brass bands have been employed to arouse enthusiasm among the rank and file of the party. Free transportation on the street cars is another inducement offered to those mobilization point to get them to turn out and make a creditable showing.

Mr. Harding is scheduled to arrive in Portsmouth late Saturday afternoon from Ironton, where he was booked to speak at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. He will be driven from Ironton to this city by Sheriff John Eckhart, who drove his automobile to Ironton Saturday morning to meet him. No stops will be made between Ironton and Portsmouth en route.

Immediately upon his arrival in this city, Mr. Harding will be taken to the Washington hotel, where he will be entertained while in the city. He will be joined at dinner Saturday evening by a few of the local Republican lead-

HOW FOOLISH ARE THESE IT MIGHT HAVE BEEN

Yet if you delay remodeling that old bathroom, some day, later the new fixtures are in you will likely say "Why didn't I have this bath put in long ago. It is so clean and beautiful that I feel provoked thinking of all that time that I wasted along with the old bathroom."

"I know it's clean and that is something that was not just so sure with the old fixtures, no matter how careful I was to clean them."

That's it—absolutely sanitary. If you appreciate hygienic surroundings call upon us for an estimate on a Standard bathroom.

MYSTERY IN CASTOE'S DEATH IS STILL UNSOLVED

Puzzling Details Baffling Officials

Further complications in the Newport, Ky., tragedy of Thursday night in which Martin A. Castoe, former local contractor, was shot and killed, developed Thursday, which tend to enshroud the case in deeper mystery than ever. The admission of an auto-divorce engagement between Castoe and Miss Nellie Hilton Blick, his stenographer, and his companion on his fateful ride, who is being detained by the Newport police as a material witness, and the intimation that Castoe planned to break with the girl, were among the facts uncovered by the police Friday.

A search of Castoe's office revealed a packed trousseau belonging to Miss Hilton, while the girl wore a wedding ring on her finger at the time of her arrest. During her stay in the hospital Thursday night, Miss Hilton continued to repeat in her hysteria, "Oh, why didn't you tell me before," which leads the police to believe that she did not know her employer did not intend to secure a divorce from his wife until the day of the shooting.

Says Tall Man Killed Castoe

Miss Hilton, during her original story all day Friday, that a tall man stepped in front of the car in which they were riding, and fired the shot, that killed Castoe, repeated questioning on the part of the officers failing to shake her story. She admitted that Castoe had seemed to marry her as soon as he secured a divorce.

Suicide Theory Is Disproved

Coroner Diggs held a post-mortem examination of the body of the victim at the Newport hospital, Friday morning. It showed that the bullet which entered the back of the head, entered the tissue on the right side of the body near the waist line. The other bullet which entered behind the left eye also passed downward. Absence of powder marks either on the flesh or clothing of the victim, tend to disprove the suicide theory. Castoe's dying statement was that he killed himself.

Miss Hilton Confined In Jail

Early Friday morning, Miss Hilton was removed to the Newport jail, where she is still being questioned by the police. After a short rest, she was questioned by the police, and she made statements which throw no further light on the mystery. Her mother and sister visited her during the afternoon, and her stepfather, Fred Hilton, a Cincinnati lawyer, called up on her during the evening.

Instrument of Death Is Still Missing

Despite thorough search, the revolver with which the shooting was committed, is still missing, which tends to cast doubt on Miss Hilton's story of the "tall man." The officers residing at the Alhambra, who saw the car, in order to the buggy, shortly before the shooting, say that the person, Castoe and the girl, appeared one of them holding a gun, and the other holding a bag, and they seemed to be engaged in conversation.

Two out of the two bandits who robbed the National Bank of Kentucky at Lexington, Oct. 24, last Saturday night, taking a boy and girl, were seen by the police. The boy, who was seen by the police, was seen by the police. The girl, who was seen by the police, was seen by the police.

Short Weight Coal Dealers To Undergo Rigid State Probe

Columbus, O., Oct. 24.—The state bureau of weights and measures will start within the next two weeks a campaign of prosecution of coal dealers who give short weight, in conjunction with county and municipal sealers of weights and measures, that a number of cities have been selected particularly, for such action. Definite days known only by sealers will be chosen for inspection of all coal delivered by dealers.

GERMANY WIN OR LOSE WILL RESPECT THE MONROE DOCTRINE

Washington, Oct. 24.—The German ambassador, Count Bernstorff, said today that early in the European war he had assured the United States government that whatever the outcome of the conflict, Germany would respect the Monroe doctrine.

Count Bernstorff said he had filed with the state department on Sept. 8, soon after his arrival in his country from Berlin, a written official statement that Germany would not infringe on the Monroe doctrine, no matter what the outcome of the war.

The ambassador said the statement was made because of statements from various English sources that Germany, if successful would not respect the Monroe doctrine and doubtless would attempt to make great colonialization schemes in South America. The ambassador declared that such statements were entirely false.

MRS. CARMAN

The shot, looked up and saw a man run across the lawn and leap over the fence. Mr. Lowe was very deaf and spoke English with a pronounced accent.

George M. Levy, Mrs. Carman's lawyer, went close to the witness stand and shouted questions in to Mr. Lowe's ears. Lowe said after he heard the shot and saw the man jump over the fence he looked into Mr. Carman's office and saw the doctor with a woman in his arms.

There were two women in front of the house, Mr. Lowe added. He also saw a man he did not know standing in the vestibule to the doctor's office.

"How near were you to the two women you saw on the steps?" Mr. Smith asked.

"About fifteen feet," Lowe replied.

WAR BULLETINS

Germans Leaving Coast

London, Oct. 24 (2:50 a. m.)—"The Germans are leaving the coast and working around Dixmude towards Lille," says a Rotterdam dispatch to the Daily Mail. "They claim success on the river Yser. Their extreme right wing was rolled back Friday, leaving their position open to a flanking movement and the allies way to Ostend clear. A strong German force was seen Thursday near the Dutch Belgian border at Hamont, going westward."

Last night the enemy was still occupying Thielt. Ghent and Bruges are quiet.

Largest Battle of War Waging

Paris, Oct. 24 (2:42 a. m.)—The correspondent in Bellegard, France, of the Echo de Paris has sent the following dispatch to his paper.

"Major Morath, in an article in the Berlin Tageblatt, asserts that the largest battle of the war is being fought between Lille and Dunkirk. He says it is a combat of life and death and that on its issue depends the fate of the operations in France. On the contrary, General Blume, writing for the Berlin Lokai Anzeiger, says that he does not expect a rapid solution, believing that the battle in France will finish only when the forces of one side or the other are exhausted."

EMPEROR'S NARROW ESCAPE

London, Oct. 24 (8:00 a. m.)—The Petrograd correspondent of the Central News sends the following:

"Soldiers from the Warsaw front say that Emperor William was personally on the field of battle. He was almost taken a captive, barely escaping by automobile."

TREMENDOUS EXPLOSION ON COAST

Rotterdam, (via London, Oct. 24. 6:15 a. m.)—According to a report from Flushing, published in the Nieuwe Courant, a tremendous explosion was heard at 7:30 Friday night on the Belgian coast, followed by another at eight. The coast guards think that the pier at Zeebrugge was blown up.

BELFORT ALMOST IMPREGNABLE

Geneva, via Paris, Oct. 24 (12:40 a. m.)—None of the German heavy artillery has arrived before Verdun or Belfort as yet, according to a correspondent of the Tribune, who has returned to Basel after visiting the French and German frontier for a week. The correspondent says that Belfort is so well armed that it would take three hundred thousand men with heavy artillery a long time to oust the French, which army the Germans cannot afford.

The Swiss government has been officially informed that there are about 200 cases of cholera in Austria-Hungary.

"Strong Serbian and Montenegrin forces which had penetrated the southeastern frontier districts in East Bosnia that were without offensive works, were defeated on October 22 after a severe battle lasting three days in the region of Nokra, and forced to retreat hastily. Details will follow later as the results of the pursuit are not yet known." The report of the battle was signed by ordinance master Potiorek.

FRENCH WAR STATEMENT

Paris, Oct. 24. (2:54 p. m.)—The official communication given out at the war office this afternoon says the Germans have made progress to the north of Dixmude and in the vicinity of Labassee, but that the French have made material advances to the west of Nieuport, in the region of Langemarck and between Armentieres and Lille.

The text of the communication is as follows:
"The battle continues on our left wing. The enemy has made progress to the north of Dixmude and in the vicinity of Labassee. We have made very perceptible advances to the east (correct) of Nieuport in the region of Lange-marck and in the region between Armentieres and Lille. It is a question of inevitable fluctuations in the line of combat which, however, maintains itself as a whole."

"On the rest of the front several German attacks by day and by night have been repulsed. At various places we have made slight progress. In the Woeyre district our advance has continued in the direction of the forest of Mortmare, to the south of Thiaucourt and in the forest of Le prete north of Point-a-mousson."
